Evans Fellows should not contact Field Placement Sites or Field Instructors unless instructed to do so by the Field Office of Social Work, Public Health, or the project coordinator.

COSA students will conduct their Evans Placements during their concentration year with the School of Social Work. COSA students must contact the School of Social Work Field Office to begin the process for placement. DP students will conduct their Evans Placements the summer term following their social work concentration placements. For most placements, students will be required to present current Act 33, Act 34 and FBI clearances. Some sites also require a TB test and health screening before start date.

DP students must have the project coordinator contact and confirm the site for summer placement

Cognitive/Behavioral Health

Cognitive Behavior Institute (2017-18)
Dr. Kevin Caridad, LCSW, PhD

The Cognitive Therapy Institute is an outpatient mental health agency that uses established treatment (EST) methods that have proven to be effective for a wide range of psychological issues. The consumer wants to be sure they receive the best care possible, which equals the best outcome as possible. Dr. Caridad founded CBI in 2014 and is certified from the Academy of Cognitive Therapy, one of only 6 individuals in Western PA. As Southwest Division Chair of the National Association of Social Workers, Dr. Caridad is passionate about the development of future leaders for public social work roles. Students under the direction of Dr. Caridad will learn from both his clinical and management experience. Students will gain insight into business skills, program development, grant writing, insurance, and perform analysis of patient PHQ9 and GAD7 scores to track patient improvement over time using evidence-based CBT. Students will help bridge the gap between Primary Care and Behavioral Health Providers that builds integrative health in an open system to the benefit of CBI patients.
