Candidates should have the ability to teach in one or more of the following areas: Micro, Mezzo and Macro Practice; Human Behavior in the Social Environment (Micro and Macro); and Policy. We are also interested in candidates with specialization in at least one of the following practice areas: Aging; Children and Adolescents; Mental Health; Health; and Evidence-Based Practice.

Required qualifications: Ph.D. in Social Work or earned Doctorate in a closely related field, MSW from an accredited school of social work, and a minimum two years post-MSW practice experience.

Search committee members will be interviewing interested applicants at the CSWE APM in Tampa, Florida October 23-26, 2014. Please inform the Chair of the Search Committee by email if you wished to be interviewed at that time. The chair is Dr. Wes Hawkins and his e-mail is whawkins@fau.edu. Please contact him before or during the APM for an interview.

Applications should be submitted online at <https://jobs.fau.edu>. Candidates should submit a letter of interest, including: a review and discussion of relevant experiences and accomplishments; curriculum vitae; and names and contact information for three references. References will not be contacted with prior knowledge and approval of candidate.

The start date for this position is August, 2015.

The School of Social Work has both BSW and MSW programs, with plans to establish a DSW program. The BSW program currently enrolls more than 500 students. The MSW program enrolls more than 290 students. The School's faculty, students, and alumni are well respected within the University and across the south Florida community. We have a bright, compassionate, and committed team of faculty members. Our students are well motivated and come with a broad range of experience and interests in social work. We have an active and supportive Community Advisory Committee that is looking for innovative ways to enhance community engagement, teaching, and research. Applicants should have a well-defined vision of and commitment to social work education and scholarship.
