Job Opening: Assistant Director of Field Education and Assistant Professor

The Center for Social Work Education is currently searching for an individual to fill the Assistant Director of Field Education and Assistant Professor position.

Requirements: Master of Social Work, LSW or LCSW, at least three years of agency social work practice experience. Experience supervising student interns and some teaching experience would be an asset.

The Assistant Director will work closely with the Director of Field Education in the management of the Center's BSW and MSW field education programs. Responsibilities include developing field placement sites, placement of students in field agencies, monitoring student field placements, coordination with assigned faculty field liaisons and development of student remediation plans. The Assistant Director of Field Education will have primary responsibility for the BSW Field Education program and coordination of the Center's CWEL and CWEB programs.

The Assistant Director of Field Education will have teaching responsibilities in the BSW and/or MSW programs with a two course load in the fall and a one course teaching load in the spring semesters. Other responsibilities will include committee assignments, ongoing professional development activities and community/professional service.

This 12 month, full-time, non-tenure track position requires an individual who is able to work autonomously, take initiative and has excellent interpersonal and problem solving skills. The applicant needs to be well-organized, enthusiastic, collaborative and excited about working with students and their professional development. This faculty position in the Center for Social Work Education comes with a competitive salary and generous benefits package.
