The University of Northern Iowa Department of Social Work invites applications for three new faculty positions beginning fall 2021. These include:

1. Two tenure-track faculty positions at the rank of assistant professor. Primary job duties for both positions include teaching three graduate and/or undergraduate courses in either in-person or online formats, and active research agenda and scholarship production, participating in service to the department and University, and student advisement. Minimum qualifications are a master’s degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program with at least two years of post-MSW practice experience plus a doctorate in social work or a related area. Preferred qualifications include those who are willing to teach research courses, who have previous teaching experience, and have a demonstrated ability to teach online are preferred.

Job description and application information can be found here:
- Assistant Professor of Social Work (52144)
- Assistant Professor of Social Work (52146)

2. One three-year term online instructor who will teach primarily in our growing distance education program. Responsibilities for this position include teaching four online courses per semester. These courses will cover both BSW and MSW programs. Additional duties include participating in service to the department, and student advisement. Note: due to this being a fully online position, relocation to Iowa is not required. Minimum qualifications include evidence of high-quality online teaching experience is required. Other requirements include a master’s degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program and a PhD in social work or a related field. Preferred qualifications include those who can contribute to the department’s focus on trauma-informed care, and can teach in one or more of the following areas: macro-level practice, diversity issues, policy development, and grant writing. Special consideration will be given for those who have two-years of post-MSW practice experience and who can teach research courses. Candidates should have working knowledge of, or be willing to learn, Zoom, Blackboard, and Google Workspace.

Job description and application information can be found here:
- Social Work Instructor (52147)