The Florida State University College of Social Work (FSU CSW) invites applications for multiple tenure-earning Open-rank faculty positions beginning in the Fall of 2022. The College educates students through its BSW, MSW (Clinical and Social Leadership concentrations) and research-based Ph.D. programs. The College is seeking candidates with research agendas that can contribute to collaborative research in demonstrably fundable areas (e.g., gerontology, poverty, behavioral health, criminal justice, health, child welfare, and addictions). Candidates must also demonstrate a commitment to teaching, research, external funding, and professional service. Candidates must demonstrate a commitment to respecting and promoting a culture of diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Qualifications
Applicants must have a doctorate in social work or a related field. ABD candidates who will complete doctorates prior to the position start date will be considered. Preference will be given to candidates with a MSW degree. Applicants are expected to have a high level of research productivity and a clearly articulated, fundable research agenda commensurate with rank. The Florida State University and the College of Social Work are dedicated to building a community that is diverse, equitable, and inclusive. Accordingly, applicants from diverse backgrounds and historically underrepresented groups in higher education are strongly encouraged to apply.

University Information
Florida State is designated a “Doctoral/Research University-Extensive,” the top designation by the Carnegie Foundation, and is committed to providing faculty with a supportive research infrastructure. Florida State University is located in Tallahassee—Florida’s award-winning capital city. Florida State University and the College of Social Work offer a competitive salary and benefits package commensurate with experience.

The College of Social Work is a Top 25 US News and World Report public program that offers a collegial atmosphere dedicated to maintaining a diverse faculty as well as promoting rigorous scholarship and delivering high quality instruction. Faculty in the FSU CSW engage in interdisciplinary research across the university, local community, state, nationally, and internationally in areas including, but not limited to, medical social work, family violence, poverty and social welfare policy, child welfare, gerontology, and criminal justice. Our renowned research institutes include: the Center for the Study and Promotion of Communities, Families, and Children; Florida Institute for Child Welfare; Institute for Family Violence Studies; Institute for Justice Research and Development, and the Multidisciplinary Center. The Florida State University subscribes to equal opportunity and pluralism and complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act. All eligible candidates are, therefore, invited to apply for position vacancies as appropriate. Florida State University is a public records agency pursuant to Chapter 119, Florida Statutes.

How to Apply
Qualified applicants should submit an electronic application, cover letter, curriculum vitae, one writing sample, and the names of three references to https://jobs.omni.fsu.edu. Application review will begin on October 15th. Applications will be accepted until the positions are filled. Initial interviews are currently scheduled to be conducted during the CSWE APM and virtually as needed.

Any questions may be directed to:

Shamra Boel-Studt, Ph.D.
Chair, Faculty Search Committee
College of Social Work
E-mail: sboelstudt@fsu.edu
Website: http://csw.fsu.edu