Find the latest information and resources

For the latest announcements, as well as faculty, staff, students, and community resources related to the COVID-19 pandemic, please visit the PIBM School of Social Work website.

Faculty member talks about how to cope with social distancing

Professor Christina Newhill spoke to PittWire about the challenges faced by those struggling with mental illness in the difficult time. She also spoke with the Pitt News about how students can cope with the current disruptions. Read the PittWire story here and the Pitt News article here.

Continuing Education Director focusing on the future

Continuing Education Director and MSW alumna Molly Alwine talked to Social Work Today about the trends in CE, the changing workforce, and how Pitt Social Work is moving towards a more digital future. Read more.

Alumna named human services director

MSW alumna Kimberly J. Rogers has been named the Washington County Human Services Director. In Washington County, the human services director oversees local social service agencies, including Children and Youth Services, Aging Services, Behavioral Health Services, and substance abuse services. Read more.

Alumna gives to Pittsburgh’s COVID-19 relief efforts

MSW alumna Matt Galluzzo, president and chief executive of Riverlife, and his wife made a very personal donation to the Emergency Action Fund, housed at the Pittsburgh Foundation. Read their touching story in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Alumnus offers mental health support during COVID-19 outbreak

MSW alumnus Julius Boatwright’s organization Steel Smiling launched a free virtual weekly mental health and wellness program this week so that Pittsburghers can get the support they need during the COVID-19 outbreak. Read more about their efforts and how to join in the City Paper.

Alumnus helps with food bank effort

Alumnus Bob Malys, product flow coordinator for the food bank who earned his master’s degree in social work from Pitt, helped with the efforts at a food distribution event put together by the Greater Pittsburgh Community Food Bank and the Pittsburgh Pirates. Read more in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

MSW alumnus Julio Bentwright’s organization Steel Smiling launched a free virtual weekly mental health and wellness program this week so that Pittsburghers can get the support they need during the COVID-19 outbreak. Read more about their efforts and how to join in the City Paper.

Alumnus profiled in Pittsburgh Magazine

MSW alumnus Shariar Nance, founder of Vitamin C Healing, spoke to Pittsburgh Magazine about how he navigates business and offered advice to other aspiring social workers. Read more.

Nance also penned an article about building resiliency in the midst of uncertainty. Read here.

No Upcoming Events at this time

University of Pittsburgh School of Social Work
www.socialwork.pitt.edu
2217 Cathedral of Learning 4200 Fifth Avenue Pittsburgh, PA 15260
(412) 624-6304

To submit something for the weekly update please email shm87@pitt.edu by Friday.

Click to unsubscribe